DEATH OF JOHA S. BOGAN.

He Was Well Known Here in His Early Life, John Stewart Bogan, who died in Mt. Vernon, Ill., last month, was well known in this city in his early life. He was born in Woodstock, Va., March 6, 1820, and was the son of Major Benjamin Bogan, who fought gallantly in the war of 1812, and was afterward chief clerk of the Senate document room for twenty-two years.

John S. Bogan was the eldest of a family of twelve children, of whom Dr. Samuel W. Bogan of this city, Mrs. S. S. Varnell and Henry M. Bogan, who lived in Illinois, are the only survivors. John S. Bogan first served an apprenticeship as a printer, on the Alexandria Gazette, under the grandfather of the present owner. He then went to the Globe printing office under Blair & Rives, where he remained until his health failed, and he then removed to Montgomery county, Md., and engaged in farming. Here he married Miss Louisa Brunet. In 1846 he removed to Jefferson county, Ill., where he established the Jeffersonian, the first paper ever issued in that county. In 1854 he was made clerk of the circuit court, which office he held continuously for thirty-four years, when he voluntarily relinquished the position. As an evidence of the esteem in which Mr. Bogan was held, the city council of Mt. Vernon convened in special session and passed resolutions of regret and also attended the funeral in a body, as did Marlon Lodge, I. O. O. F., of which the deceased was a charter member. In fact, on the day of the funeral nearly all the places of business were closed and the entire community attended the services. Mr. Bogan would have been eighty years of age had he lived until the 6th of this month. He left a widow and five children. Bogan of this city, Mrs. S. S. Varnell and

DEATH OF A DOG.

Mr. J. Henry Corrigan of 525 Fulton street, Baltimore, Md., recently invested $2 in a dog. He purchased the animal from the District poundmaster, it having been captured in one of the raids conducted by that official upon untagged and unmuzzled dogs. A few days thereafter, much to the disappointment of Mr. Corrigan, the animal died. Thereupon he wrote the District and requesting that the poundmaster be directed by them to provide him with another rected by them to provide him with another dog, to take the place of the departed one, and without the payment by him of another fee of $2.

The poundmaster, however, has reported to the Commissioners that when the animal left the pound it was apparently in good health. The Commissioners will, it is therefore believed, inform Mr. Corrigan that under the circumstances it will be impracticable for them to grant his request, it being understood that they decline to approve the understood that they decline to approve the making of any promises by the poundmas-ter as to the health, pedigree or good qual-ities of impounded animals disposed of by him.

A "Rummage" Sale.

A "Rummage" Sale.

How many readers of The Star know what a "Rummage" sale is? Very few. probably; for, though such are not unknown in some places, there has never been one held here, so far as we know. One is contemplated, however, under the auspices of Messrs, C. G. Sloan & Co., the auspices of Messrs, C. G. Sloan & Co., the auctioneers on G street. Briefly, it is a sort of hodge-podge, half social, half commercial, entertainment, for the purpose of raising funds for charitable purposes—of which there is great need in Washington this season. The method is for charitably disposed people to go on a runmaging expedition into their closets, attics, out-buildings, etc., and bring out all sorts of things stored there for which they are likely to have little or no use, such as half-worn clothes of all kinds, boots and shoes, bed clothes and bedding, bits of furniture, household articles, and odds and ends of every description, that are hardly good enough to use, but too good to throw away, such as accumulate in every household. These are to be sent for by the auctioneers, arranged in proper order for examination by those interested, and sold later on at auction to the highest bidder. The scheme, if properly carried out, will serve a triple purpose: it will enable people to turn to good account a lot of things they hardly know what to do with. The sale will, or ought to, produce quite a snug little sum of money, which is to be divided between the two principal general charitable organizations in the city; and, finally, it will afford people of small means an opportunity to obtain at a trifling cost many useful and much-needed articles, which they would scarcely be able to procure otherwise.

It is understood that the project has the indersement of a number of charitable and public-spirited ladies and gentlemen, and that it will soon be laid before the public in the form of a circular or postal card, to be issued by Messrs. Sloan & Co., who announce that they will make no charge for collecting the results of the rumma nor for their services as auctioneers.

It is therefore well worth seeing.

A Warning to Householder

To the Editor of The Evening Star: Washington householders should be warned against a persistent woman agent; dressed in mourning, who insists upon seeing the lady of the house on an important matter. She will not give her name or the matter. She will not give her name or the nature of her business until her demand is acceded to, and then it is apparently to sell a "highly decorated vase." The servant who answers the door bell will have difficulty in preventing her from entering the drawing room. If she succeeds, there is ample opportunity to purion something that attracts her attention. In my case a miniature in a gold frame was missing after she had been ordered out of the house.

True Economy

The difference of cost between a good and a poor baking powder would not amount for a family's supply to one dollar a year. The poor powder would cost many times this in doctors' bills.

Royal Baking Powder may cost a little more per can, but it insures perfect, wholesome food. In fact, it is more economical in the end, because it goes further in leavening and never spoils the food.

Royal Baking Powder used always in making the biscuit and cake saves both health and money.

> You cannot, if you value good health, afford to use cheap, low-grade, alum baking powders. They are apt to spoil the food; they do endanger the health. All physicians will tell you that alum in food is poisonous.

In Washington. Washington, D.C.—"When our boy was about 16 months old he broke out with a rash which was thought to be measles. In a few which was thought to be measles. In a few days he had a swelling on the left side of his neck, and it was decided to be mumps. He was given medical attendance for about three weeks, when the doctor said it was scrofula, and ordered a saive. He wanted to lance the sore, but I would not let him, and continued giving him medicine for about four months, when the bunch broke in two places and became a running sore. Three doctors said it was scrofula, and each ordered a blood medicine. A neighbor told me of a case some what like our baby's which was cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I decided to give it to my boy, and in a short while his health improved and his neck healed so nicely that I stopped giving him the medicine. The sore broke out again, however; whereupon I again gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla, and its persistent use has accomplished a complete oure." Mrs. NETTIE CHASE, 47 K st. n.e.

Have increased in weight, can eat anything and am working hard every day." JAMES GRANGER, 1365 1st st. a.w., Washington, D. C.
